SPECIAL HOLIDAYS 2024

We want to make it clear that our policy regarding confidential prices and programs is in strict compliance with what is published.

However, in some special dates, service suppliers such as transportation, guides and hotels raise their price, which as a consequence forces us to consider supplements not specified beforehand in our tariffs.

Due to some of the special dates are not fixed and that service suppliers vary according to the kind of service and dates; we cannot provide an exact detail of the chronogram of supplements to be applied each year.

What we can do is provide a general overview, and then, jointly review each specific quotation once the case shows up.

For this reason, we kindly request you do whatever is in your hands to let us know the dates (exact or at least approximate) when an application of quotation is being required.
